Subject: NOAA statement

Someone under your supervision put out a statement supporting the president's erroneous tweet that Alabama was endangered by Dorian, and admonishing the Alabama office that corrected his erroneous tweet. What is the matter with you all? Are you tools? Fearful of Trump's revenge? Is it your responsibility to keep the American people safe and informed, or to support an idiotic president?

At least have the courage to come out publicly and state who sent out the statement, if you agree with it, and why. Stand up and be counted for what you are.
